

the more individual radio stations out there the beter people will understand others and be able to make up there own opinions.